Notes for John Babb:

At this writing I am uncertain of the existence of this John Babb and his brother William. I am making an educated guess from the Last Will & Testament of William Babb in 1697 (Proved 1698) in Berkhamsted.

William leaves the property to his wife Mary for her natural life and it is then supposed to pass to his son William. But the next time it comes up in 1766 by yet another William who is giving it to Ann (Babb) Norrington and her sister Susan (likely still a Babb).

Daniel Wheeler also comes up in this 1766 Will. He is previously mentioned in the will of John Babb of Berkhamsted (1756-7_) along with several other people found in the Will of William from 1766.

However, the John of 1756 cannot be the brother of William (1766) as he is mentioned in William's will as needing to settled down, get married and raise a family to be included in William's final disbursement.

Thus it seems that William (1766) is the son of John (1756), which keeps it all tidy and in the family. I am still looking for other corroborating evidence. In the meantime, I have chosen to list the two brothers as sons of John Babb (1674-1756).

This association would make Daniel the husband of John's Aunt. No closer association is possible and I can't imagine anyone leaving a house to someone who is more distantly related than a 1st cousin.
